A Note from Pickett...

Good People,

As we journey together through Lent toward the great feast of Easter, I want to encourage all of you to participate fully in the services that lie ahead. In order to fully understand and appreciate the Resurrection of our Lord, we must journey with him through the Lenten season and into Holy Week. Palm Sunday is the service that bridges the season of Lent with Holy Week and is therefore an integral part of our liturgy and faith. The Palm Sunday liturgy begins with a festive and triumphant entrance, recalling the arrival of Jesus in Jerusalem. The liturgy ends with a lingering note of despair as it captures the sentiment that the followers of Jesus must have felt after his capture, prosecution and death. I encourage all of you to join us, and be present for both the beginning and ending of this powerful service. There is a long tradition in Camden of area churches processing around the block. Because of this, our service start time will not be exact. We hope to begin, outside the church, around 10:45. Please feel free to watch the great neighborhood procession from the church grounds, or to join it if you like. I implore you, however, to not simply walk the block and go home. We will allow the procession to pass and then join together in our own, as we enter the church with joy and palms waving high. If you have any questions please give me a call.

See you Sunday,
Pickett+
